👤 PROFILE

I'm Muhammet Emin METİN. Although I started my university journey in a non-traditional way, I've been honing my skills in this field for about two years now. During this time, I've focused on mastering modern web technologies such as React, Next.js, CSS, HTML, and TypeScript. I've gained hands-on experience in real-world projects and am now ready to utilize these skills to contribute to a company's successful projects.

Frameworks like React and Next.js empower me to develop user-friendly and impressive web applications. Additionally, I can effectively design user interfaces using CSS and HTML, while TypeScript ensures a safer codebase.

PitGrowth 🔗

Intern Front-End Developer

As an intern at PitGrowth, I had the opportunity to learn and utilize Docker for managing container structures. During this time, I successfully integrated Redis Cache and MongoDB containers into my project, efficiently implementing the authentication (auth) component. Additionally, I employed modern design principles and tools on the frontend to create user-friendly interfaces, resulting in aesthetically pleasing and functional designs that significantly enhanced the user experience.
